- Sample cutting press

The press has specifically been designed to cut relatively flexible materials, such as plastic, fabrics, boards, and paper, etc. In most cases, the thickness of the material will not just depend on the strength of the material. To obtain the optimum cutting load, the cutter must be set up relative to the cutting board so that at full stroke, the cutter will just depress the surface of the cutting board.